From the RAMBLER.

——Valeat res ludicra, ſi me,
Palma negata macrum, donata reducit opimum. HOR.

Nor is each ludicrous Performance light:
Neglect makes pale, Regard reſtores the Plight.

NOTHING is more unpleaſing than to find that others have received Offence when none was intended, and that Pain has been given to thoſe who were not guilty of any Provocation. As the great End of Society is mutual Beneficence, a good Man is always uneaſy when he finds himſelf acting in Oppoſition to the Purpoſes of Life; becauſe though his Conſcience may eaſily acquit him of Malice prepenſe, of ſettled Hatred, or Contrivances of Miſchief; yet he ſeldom can be certain, that he has not failed by Negligence, or Indolence; that he has not been hindred from conſulting the common Intereſt by too much Regard to his own Eaſe, or too much Indifference with Reſpect to the Happineſs of others.

Nor is it neceſſary, that, to feel this Uneaſineſs, the Mind ſhould be extended to any great Diffuſion of Generoſity, or melted by any Exertion of Warmth or Benevolence; for that Prudence which ariſes from Obſervation of the World, and a quick Senſibility of private Intereſt, will eaſily direct us to ſhun needleſs Enmities; for though there is no Man whoſe Kindneſs we may not ſome Time want, or by whoſe Malice we may not ſome Time ſuffer.

I have therefore frequently looked with Reſentment and Wonder, and now and then with Pity, at the Thoughtleſſneſs and Folly with which ſome alienate from themſelves the Affections of all whom Chance, or Buſineſs, or Inclination, brings in their Way. Sometimes we ſee a Man purſuing ſome Darling Intereſt, without much Regard to the Opinion of the World, though we may juſtly conſider him as corrupt and dangerous, we are not long in diſcovering his Motives; we ſee him actuated by Paſſions which are hard to be gratified, and deluded by Appearances which have dazzled ſtronger Eyes. But the greateſt Part of thoſe who ſet Mankind at Defiance, by hourly Irritation, and who live but to infuſe Malignity, and ſtimulate Enemies, have no Hopes to cheriſh, no Deſigns to proſecute, nor any Expectations of attaining Power by Inſolence, or of taſting the Sweets of Greatneſs by trampling on others. They give up all Regard, for the ſake of Peeviſhneſs, Petulance, or Gloom; by Neglect of the common Forms of Civility, and Breach of the eſtabliſhed Laws of Converſation.

Every Man muſt in the Walks of Life, have met with Men of whom all ſpeak with Cenſure, though they are not chargeable with any Crime; and whom none can be perſuaded to love, tho' their Benefaction can be aſſigned why they ſhould be hated; and who, if they have their Panegyric always concluded with Confeſſions of Diſguſt; "He is a good Man, but I cannot like him." Surely ſuch Men have loſt the Eſteem of the World at too low a Price, ſince they have loſt one of the Rewards of Virtue, without gaining the Protection of Wickedneſs.

This ill Oeconomy of Fame is ſometimes the Effect of Stupidity. Men whoſe Perceptions are languid and ſluggiſh; who lament nothing but Loſſes, and feel nothing but a Blow; who are often at a Difficulty to gueſs by what Means they have encompaſſed themſelves Enemies, though they lived in total Neglect of all thoſe Arts by which Men are endeared to one another; they comfort themſelves that they have lived irreproachably; that no Man can charge them with having endangered his Life, or diminiſhed his Poſſeſſions; and therefore conclude, that they ſuffer by ſome invincible Fatality, or impute the Malice of Mankind to Ignorance or Envy. They wrap themſelves up in their Innocence, and enjoy the Congratulations of their own Hearts, without knowing or ſuſpecting that they are every Day deſervedly incurring Reſentments, by with-holding from thoſe with whom they converſe, that Regard, or Appearance of Regard, to which every one is entitled by the Cuſtoms of the World.

There are many Injuries, which almoſt every Man feels, though he does not complain; and which, upon thoſe whom Virtue, Elegance, or Vanity have made delicate and tender, fix deep and laſting Impreſſions; as there are many Arts of Graciouſneſs and Conciliation, which are to be practiſed without Expence, and by which thoſe may be made our Friends, who have never received from us any real Benefit. Such Arts, when they include neither Guilt nor Meanneſs, it is ſurely reaſonable to learn; for who would want that Love which is ſo eaſily to be gained? And ſuch Injuries are to be avoided; for who would be hated without Profit?

Some indeed there are, for whom the Excuſe of Ignorance or Negligence cannot be alledged; becauſe it is apparent, that they are not only careleſs of pleaſing, but ſtudious to offend; that they contrive to make all Approaches to them difficult and vexatious, and imagine that they aggrandize themſelves by waſting the Time of others in uſeleſs Attendance, and by mortifying them with Slights, and teazing them with Affronts.

Men of this Kind are generally to be found among thoſe that have not mingled much with the general Maſs of the Community, but ſpent their Lives amidſt the Obſequiouſneſs of Dependants, and the Flattery of Paraſites; and have, by conſulting only their own Inclination, forgotten that others have an equal Claim to the ſame Deference.

Tyranny thus avowed, is indeed an Exuberance of Pride, by which all Mankind is ſo much enraged, that it is never quietly endured, except in thoſe who can reward the Patience which they exact; and Inſolence is generally ſurrounded by ſuch whoſe Baſeneſs inclines them to think nothing inſupportable that produces Gain, and who can laugh at Scurrility and Rudeneſs with a luxurious Table and an open Purſe.

But though all wanton Provocations and contemptuous Inſolence are to be diligently avoided, there is no leſs Danger in timid Compliance and tame Reſignation. It is common for ſoft and fearful Tempers, to give themſelves up implicitly to the Direction of the Bold, the Turbulent, and the Over-bearing, of thoſe whom they do not believe wiſer or better than themſelves; to recede from the beſt Deſigns where Oppoſition muſt be encountered, and to fall off from Virtue for Fear of Cenſure.

Some Firmneſs and Reſolution is neceſſary to the Diſcharge of Duty. But it is a very unhappy State of Life in which the Neceſſity of ſuch Struggles frequently occurs: For no Man is defeated without ſome Reſentment, which will be continued with Obſtinacy while he believes himſelf in the Right, and exerted with Bitterneſs, if even to his own Conviction he is detected in the Wrong; and, without any Regard to the Conſequences of Contrariety and Diſpute, it muſt always be painful to a worthy Mind to put others to Pain, and there will be ſome Danger leſt the kindeſt Nature may be vitiated by the too long Cuſtom of Debate and Conteſt.

I know not whether I may not be taxed with Inſenſibility by many of my Correſpondents, who believe their Contributions unjuſtly neglected. And indeed, when I ſit before a Pile of Papers, of which each is the Production of laborious Study, and the Offſpring of a fond Parent, I, who know the Paſſions of an Author, cannot remember how long they have lain in my Boxes unregarded, without imagining to myſelf the various Changes of Sorrow, Impatience, and Reſentment, which the Writers muſt have felt in this tedious Interval.

Theſe Reflections are ſtill more awakened, when, upon Peruſal, I find ſome of them calling for a Place in the next Paper, a Place which they have never yet obtained; others writing in a Style of Superiority and Haughtineſs, as ſecure of Deference, and above all Fear of Criticiſm; others humbly offering their weak Aſſiſtance with Softneſs and Submiſſion, which they believe impoſſible to be reſiſted; ſome introducing their Compoſitions with a Menace of the Contempt which he that refuſes them will incur; others applying privately to the Bookſellers for their Intereſt and Sollicitation; every one by different Ways endeavouring to ſecure the Bliſs of Publication. I cannot but conſider myſelf as placed in a very incommodious Situation, where I am forced to repreſs Confidence, which it is pleaſing to indulge; to repay Civilities with Appearance of Neglect; and ſo frequently to offend thoſe by whom I never was offended.

I know well how rarely an Author, fired with the Beauties of a new Compoſition, contains his Raptures in his own Boſom, and how naturally he imparts to his Friends his Expectations of Renown: And as I can eaſily conceive the Eagerneſs with which a new Paper is ſnatched up, by one who expects to find it filled with his own Production, and perhaps has called his Companions to ſhare the Pleaſure of a ſecond Peruſal; I foreſee and grieve for the Diſappointment which he is to feel at the fatal Inſpection. His Hopes however do not yet forſake him; he is certain of giving Luſtre to the next Day. The next Day comes, and again he pants with Expectation; and having dreamed of Laurels and Parnaſſus, caſts his Eyes upon the barren Page with which he is doomed never more to be delighted.

For ſuch Cruelty what Atonement can be made? For ſuch Calamities what Alleviation can be found? I am afraid, that the Miſchief already done muſt be without Reparation; and all that deſerves my Care, is Prevention for the Future. Let therefore the next friendly Contributor, whoever he be, write ſecretly in his own Chamber, without communicating his Deſign to his neareſt Friend; for the neareſt Friend will be pleaſed with an Opportunity of laughing. Let him carry it to the Poſt himſelf, and wait in Silence for the Event. If it is publiſhed and praiſed, he may then declare himſelf the Writer; if it be ſuppreſſed, he may wonder in Private without much Vexation; and if it be cenſured, he may join in the Cry, and lament the Dulneſs of the writing Generation.

ANNAPOLIS, Auguſt 21.

We are informed, that the worſhipful Magiſtrates of Baltimore-County, at their laſt County Court, paſſed an Order, That good Security of Fifty Pounds, ſhould be given for every Convict imported into that County, after that Time.

And at our County Court laſt Week, the worſhipful Magiſtrates of Anne-Arundel, paſſed a like Order, That good Security in the Sum of Fifty Pounds at leaſt, ſhould be given for every Convict hereafter imported into this County, and that they ſhould be committed till ſuch Security ſhould be procured.

Like!

We are informed that the worſhipful Juſtices of the other Counties will follow their Example.

Such Orders, and the late Act of Aſſembly making one Convict's Oath good Evidence againſt another, will, in all Probability, in a great Meaſure, if not altogether, prevent the Sale of thoſe Sort of People ſent hither for the BETTER PEOPLING of the Colonies.

BOSTON, Auguſt 26.

Wedneſday laſt the Rev. Dr. Sewall preached an excellent Sermon before the Society lately formed here for encouraging Induſtry, and employing the Poor, and a great Number of other Perſons. After Sermon there was a Collection of Money for promoting that noble Deſign; and it is earneſtly wiſhed by all Lovers of their Country, that People in Circumſtances would exert themſelves at this Time, and upon this Occaſion, when there is ſo hopeful a Proſpect of making great Numbers of Perſons uſeful both to themſelves and the Publick, who have heretofore been a dead Weight upon it, eſpecially upon this poor Town, the Charge of which has for ſeveral Years paſt been about Thirty Thouſand Pounds per Annum, old Tenor. In 1743, it was 36,000 l. and in 1750, about the ſame Sum. N. B. By an Account lately taken by the Aſſeſſors, it appears that there are at this Time in the Town, 1153 Widows, of which at leaſt one Half are very poor.

By a Veſſel from Chignecto, we are informed, That the Indians are all drawn off from the French Camp near that Place, ſome of whom are gone to Canada, and the reſt to Bay Vert, to receive the French King's Preſents, lately arrived there, where they are making ſome Kind of Settlement.---That Major Luttrel, Commander of the Britiſh Troops, had lately ſent ſeveral Parties, and cut down all the Dykes on the French Side, from whence the Indians uſed to annoy our Shipping; ſo that there is not now the leaſt Danger in going up the River.---That the French Troops deſert daily to our Garriſon, thirteen of whom came over in two Days.

We likewiſe hear, that they daily expected a Number of Families at Chignecto from Halifax, to ſettle there, and they are conſtantly at work on the Fort, which in a ſhort Time will be ſo ſtrong, as to defy all the Force that can come againſt it.---That the Place is very healthy, and the People in high Spirits, and they hope ſoon to ſee a flouriſhing Settlement; eſpecially as they have the greateſt Reaſon to believe the Indians are deſirous of a Peace.

By a Veſſel from Halifax, we have Advice of the Arrival of his Majeſty's Ship Centaur, Capt. Coſby, at that Place, from England: She is bound from thence to her Station at New-York.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 2.

Capt. Walker, who arrived here laſt Wedneſday, in five Weeks from the Bay of Honduras, informs us, that on the 10th of July laſt 15 Spaniſh Craft, with 200 Men, from Campechy and Guatamala, came into Backelo or New-River in the Bay, and there took the following Engliſh Veſſels, viz. Capt. Battagen of Jamaica, Capt. Serjeant of Rhode Iſland, Capt. Groves of Boſton, and Capt. Broadhurſt of New-York, all Sloops; alſo one Schooner, another Sloop, and 25 Flats, making in all 164 Men Priſoners. As ſoon as this News reached Old-River, which the Spaniards did not think proper to viſit, the Engliſh there ſent a Flag of Truce, and ſettled a Cartel with them; after much treating they got 19 of the Men releaſed, amongſt which were the Captains Broadhurſt and Saltus of New-York, and Capt. Bailey of Bermuda, the reſt, with all the Veſſels and Booty, were carried off by them.

Extract of a Letter from St. Thomas, by a Veſſel arrived here Yeſterday.

"The Spaniards are beginning their old Tricks of taking our Veſſels; they have taken a Snow bound from Coracoa to N. York, and carried her into Porto-Rico, where, without Doubt, ſhe will be condemn'd, for it was never known that any have eſcap'd their Claws. Capt. Falkingham of the Shark Man of War, was at Porto-Rico when ſhe was brought in, who took all the Meaſures he could to aſſiſt the Captain in getting his Veſſel again, but all to no Purpoſe.---They pretend that Stock-Fiſh Wood makes him Bon-Prize, as they call it." (It is ſuppoſed this Veſſel is Capt. Carpenter, who, 'tis ſaid, has a large Quantity of Money on board belonging to the Merchants of this City, and has been for ſome Time expected.)

PHILADELPHIA, September 5.

Extract of a Letter from Annapolis, Auguſt 15. 1751.

"I am told that our Sheriff has now in his Priſon near twenty Perſons accuſed of Villainies and Felonies, moſt of them in Irons; but that is Attire moſt, if not all of them, have been acquainted with in our Mother Country. Our late Law which makes one Convict's Oath good againſt another Convict, will, I dare ſay, occaſion the Sale of many a Bed-cord, and the tranſporting many a Tranſport into the other World. We often hear of Perkins and his Gang in the back Parts of Virginia, committing many Villainies; they ſay that Newton and Jones are gone back with Deſign to join them; proper Recruits for ſuch a helliſh Troop, which it is ſaid is continually encreaſing, and the People thereabouts are ſo frighten'd, that they cannot, dare not, take them; and are forced to humour them, as ſome Indians worſhip the Devil, for fear he ſhould hurt them. I much wonder the Government of Virginia do not ſend out a Force ſufficient to ſubdue ſuch a Pack of Banditti."

Boſton, Auguſt 22.

Yeſterday the Grand Jury for the Body of this County, return'd for the Superior Court, now holden here, were diſcharg'd: 'Tis remarkable, that they have had no Matters of Preſentment come before them, ſo as to offer to the Court. This ſhews the Difference between Colonies that do not receive Convicts, and thoſe that do.

The Ship Carolina, Captain Meſnard, for London, will certainly ſail down on Saturday next.

Yeſterday Captain Moore arrived here from Londonderry.

A large Ship is in the Cove from Holland, with Palatines; and a Billander, that has been long expected, we hear is in the River from the ſame Place, and with Palatines alſo.

Philadelphia, September 5. 1751.

THE Annapolis Poſt-rider hereby gives notice, that he is to be ſpoke with every Fortnight, during the remainder of the ſummer ſeaſon, from Wedneſday noon to Thurſday noon, at the houſe of Mr. Claxon, at the ſign of the Three Tuns in Cheſtnut-ſtreet, or at the Poſt-office. Any gentlemen, or others, who have any commands, may depend on being faithfully ſerv'd by their humble ſervant, JOHN CISTI.

To the Freeholders of the City and County of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN,

AS I intend to ſtand a candidate for the Coroner's office (the preſent Coroner declining) I take this publick method of deſiring your votes and intereſt, in conjunction with William Gray, at the enſuing election, in favour of your friend and ſervant,

THOMAS JAMES, junior.

To the Freeholders of the City and County of Philadelphia.

Gentlemen,

AS you did me the honour, at the laſt election, to favour me with your votes and intereſt, by which means I obtained the office of Sheriff: This is to deſire a continuation of your favours, at the enſuing election. ISAAC GRIFFITTS, ſheriff.

To the Freeholders of the City and County of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN,

AS this publick method has been made uſe of, to acquaint you with the candidates for the Sheriff's office, ſo I embrace it, to deſire your votes at the enſuing election in my favour for that office, which will oblige your friend,

JUDAH FOULKE.

To be ſold by the ſubſcriber, living in Philadelphia, the following tracts of land, in Weſt New Jerſey, viz.

ONE of four thouſand acres, (near the little pond, in the county of Morris,) divided into twenty lots of two hundred acres each. They are finely timber'd and water'd, and a large quantity of natural meadow, belong to each lot. The ſoil is very rich, and capable of producing great crops of wheat; ſituate in a beautiful part of the country, and in the neighbourhood of wealthy farmers, ſeveral of whom are Dutch. The great road to Brunſwick runs thro' the body of ſaid lots, to which place they are about thirty miles diſtant, and from whence there is a direct navigation to New-York. One of one thouſand acres, in the county of Hunterdon, on the north branch of Rarington (commonly called Laometonk) divided into five lots, of two hundred acres each, adjoining to James Logan Eſquire's tract; each lot is bounded on the river, and well timbered, with a ſufficient quantity of meadow. Said land is in a fine wheat country, and diſtant but twenty miles from Brunſwick. There is a Preſbyterian Meeting Houſe, two miles from ſaid land, and a Dutch Church within a mile. Several griſt mills are round the tract, and one on it, which is a new one, and in good order. Four lots of two hundred acres each, in the county of Morris, at Tohocanetkong. They are well wooded and water'd, and in a very growing part of the country. Exact plans may be view'd by thoſe who are inclinable to purchaſe, and conditions of ſale known, of JOHN BAYNTON.

N. B The titles to the above tracts are indiſputable. t. b. c. 6 W.

TO BE SOLD,

A Lot of ground in Germantown, of 70 feet front, and 350 deep; on which there is a new ſtone houſe, well finiſhed, two ſtory high, two rooms on a floor, and a good cellar under the whole, a pump in the yard; a good ſmith's ſhop of ſtone on ſaid lot, alſo a new frame ſhop, likewiſe fit for a ſmith, or any other tradeſman. The houſe is two doors above the market place, on the north ſide of the ſtreet. Any perſon inclining to purchaſe, may apply to JOHN BARTLET, ſadler, living on the premiſes, and be informed of the conditions of ſale.

N. B. There is on ſaid place, a good bearing young orchard. ¶

For CORK directly,
The Brigantine
JANE,
Robert Stewart Maſter;

Now lying at Lloyd's Wharff, and will certainly ſail in three weeks. For freight or paſſage, apply to Alexander Alexander, on Society Hill, or ſaid commander on board. ⊖

NOtice is hereby given to all perſons that intend to convey themſelves, goods, wares or merchandize, from Philadelphia to New-York, or from New-York to Philadelphia: That there will be a ſtage-boat, well fitted, and kept by Patrick Cowan, living in Burlington, that will attend every Tueſday in every week, at the Crooked Billet Wharff, in Philadelphia, for the ſame buſineſs, and will proceed the ſame day up to Burlington, wind and weather permitting. And on Wedneſday morning a ſtage waggon, with a good arning, kept by Fretwell Wright, at the Blue Anchor, in Burlington, and John Predmore, at Cramberry, and James Wilſon, at Amboy Ferry; will proceed to Obadiah Ayrs's, Inn-keeper at Amboy Ferry; where good entertainment for man and horſe is, and will be kept. And on Thurſday a ſtage paſſage-boat, with a fine commodious cabbin, fitted with a tea-table, and ſundry other conveniencies, kept by Matthias Iſelſtine, will be ready to receive the paſſengers or goods, and proceed directly to New-York, and give her attendance at Whitehall Battery. If Paſſengers are ready at the places on ſtage days, 'tis believ'd they will go ſooner from Philadelphia to New-York, by 24 or 30 hours, than by any other way that has been made uſe of by ſtage, the boat from Philadelphia to Burlington ſeldom being above four hours on her paſſage, and often but two or three hours. All perſons on or near the road, that have buſineſs, may have it done with due care and attendance. The price of paſſengers or goods, that ſhall come to Burlington, will be no more per mile than from Bordentown. On Sundays or Mondays in any week, paſſengers trading up and down the river, or any other manner, whoſe waggon hire ſhall amount to Sixteen Shillings, or upwards, ſhall, upon the firſt notice, have a waggon, and be tranſported to the ſtage boat, which will be ready to receive them at the landing, and is the moſt handy and convenient of any thereabouts, there being a good wharff to ſtep into the boat. The boat, for the firſt time, will begin to attend at the Crooked Billet on Tueſday, the 13th day of Auguſt, 1751, and the waggon will proceed the day following. Further, if the ice, or any thing elſe, ſhould at any time prevent the paſſage boat from going from Burlington to Philadelphia, the ſtage waggon will, if requir'd, proceed from Burlington to Cooper's Ferry.
